Opis / Description
4,5 cm / 3,5 gr / fast sinking

Body DesignA "V-shaped" back with the peak of buoyancy positioned directly above the center of gravity. Flat sides enhance the fluttering effect. A thin lip that achieves a balance of swimming agility, water grip, and strength.

Swim Action The swim actionfeatures a large wave with a 50/50 wobble and roll. This gives it strong appeal even with a simple retrieve. The short-pitch, fluttering, inertial slide with a short range of movement induces bites even in small action zones. The sharp darting action from a hard twitch avoids fish seeing through the lure. The reeling depth (in still water) is 100cm for the D-Compact 45, which is deeper than the D-Contact and D-Insight. The D-Compact 38 is 60cm.

The D-Compact offers "ease of use" and "fish-attracting power" that won't jump outof the water in any situation. In situations where a lure would normally jump out of the water, such as when twitching upstream in shallow or fast currents, or when retrieving a U-shaped retrieve in a strong current from the side, or when tackling a complex and strong current around boulders with a downstream retrieve, the D-Compact is easy to control thanks to its lip and body balance that grips the water well, allowing it to appeal effectively without jumping out of the water.

The D-Compact offers both ease of use and effective hook-setting, making range control crucial regardless of depth. It directly impacts results when combined with the fish's feeding depth. Failure to control it can result in losing your valuable lure. The key is the combination of rod angle, action strength, and reeling speed. The D-Compact responds directly to the angler's intentions.

The light and responsive handling, ease of use, and bite-inducing power,combined with a swimming action that clearly transmits signals and the crisp handling provided by the 3.5g (D-Compact 45) and 2.5g (D-Compact 38) weights, make it easy to create action and enhance concentration.
