Intech Puncher Jig Head are made of lead with a quality hook. It is buried in the body of bait and works perfectly when jigging. The main properties of the hooks are sharpness, resilience, strength and corrosion resistance. The hook's shank shape has been designed for better soft lure holding ability. Double ring thickening with a sharp rear edge provides a maximum contact with the body of the bait. This way it is fixed much more reliably than in a other common type of jig heads.
