A slim snap with no unnecessary protrusions. Less likely to pick up debris or seaweed, allowing for comfortable lure rotation. The length is also effective in protecting the leader from the sharp teeth of fish such as cutlassfish and Spanish mackerel. For lures, as well as egi, jig heads, and tenya.

- Slim and long shape that is easy to hold with less snagging.
- SOLDERING processing (welding) is used to prevent problems while eliminating concerns about the strength of the eye seam.
- High hardness SUS is used to prevent shape changes and increase breaking strength.
