The Berkley Gulp Sandworm soft fishing lures are the next best thing to live worms and are absolutely dynamite on any fish with a mouth. In fact the Berkley Gulp Sand Worm lures have been proven to out fish live worms, and are a whole lot easier to keep. The amount of ways this soft plastic worm can be fished is amazing with one popular method of cutting the worms in half and threading it onto your hook meaning it can be fished as a motionless bait or work it as a soft plastic lure, the choice is yours.

The Berkley Gulp Sand Worm fishing lure is deadly on a wide variety of estuary and freshwater species. Live worms are great bait in any estuary system; the Berkley Sandworm fishing lure is the ultimate imposter! Rigged using lightweight Jig heads and fished on structure such as fallen timber, boats and pylons, a slowly sinking Berkley Gulp Sandworm wriggling its way down to the depths is irresistible to bream as well as other estuary species. Slowly work the Berkley Gulp Sand Worm fishing lures over sand flats and weed beds for some mind blowing Whiting action. Available in a large range of colours and sizes, the Gulp Sandworm is an absolute must in any tackle box.

The Berkley Gulp! Sandworm swims and looks like it is alive.

Extremely durable and long lasting bait.

Expand your strike zone with 400x more scent dispersion than plastic baits.

Over 15 years of Gulp! evolution... the best keeps getting better!

Effective in saltwater as a natural forage, as well as freshwater, when you want your worm to have a little more action.

Made in USA

Gulp! has 400 times more scent dispersion than ordinary plastic bait. The extreme scent dispersion greatly expands the strike zone allowing you to catch more fish! Even more impressive, the natural formulation of Gulp! outfishes live bait in head to head field tests. Berkley Gulp! truly is the next generation in soft bait!
