Opis / Description

Recently, fishing with large silicone baits has become widespread, which play as naturally as possible and do not cause the predator's alertness precisely when equipped with a jig head. However, given the large size of the silicone, for best performance it is necessary that the size of the hook is comparable to the size of the bait. These needs that the Intech Big Game Puncher jig head provides, and it is for the fight against real trophies that these jigs have a hook made of high-quality steel, which withstands the most critical loads and keeps sharpening for a long time. At first glance, non-obvious things, like the height of the underwear, the thickness of the hook or the fixation system in the bait, are thought out to the smallest detail in Big Game Puncher jig heads.

The hook has a high underdock, equipping with a large jig and meaty silicone remains enough room for high-quality hooking and fixing the predator. To securely hold the bait on the jig is used cone-shaped ring skirt, it securely fixes the bait and does not tear silicone in the head part. This is especially true when using delicate, edible silicone with an abundance of salt in the bait.

For jig heads Big Game Puncher is used a quality hook, made of high-modular steel, at the same strength and dimensions the hook is thinner than on similar jigs, this positively affected the penetrating properties and allowed to significantly increase the implementation of bites.
